

ERR on the side of safetySM

WHAT WE DO

Med-ERRS provides these services that focus solely on reducing the risk of error to improve the safety of the client's product. Med-ERRS does not develop trademarks, or conduct market research, marketing or advertising related activities. Our focus is completely on safety.

Trademark Safety Testing

PREVIEW-ERRSM: Helps clients rapidly eliminate unacceptable trademark candidates (based on potential safety and/or regulatory issues) by providing preliminary expert opinions to the names prior to searching or testing

SCREEN-ERR[®]: Assists companies in evaluating multiple pharmaceutical trademark candidates using various searching tools and databases at an early stage in the trademark development process

ERRS MODEL[®]: Proactively evaluates trademarks for safety and regulatory issues using various risk assessment methods including handwriting and verbal analysis

Safety Consulting

EVALUATE-ERR[®]: A risk assessment service that examines a unique aspect of a drug product (such as a dosage form, special packaging, or trademark) and its vulnerability to user error

Technology Consults: Offer insight to help improve the functionality and safety of various technologies

Educational Programs: Provide pharmaceutical industry professionals with knowledge about medication safety and medication error prevention

Advisory Groups: Arranges and conducts meetings by gathering key global thought leaders to introduce, discuss and consider solutions for difficult medication safety concerns

Package and Label Evaluation

Consists of expert review of drug and drug-device combination products packaging and labels to help clients create packaging and labels for use around the world that are easy to understand and consistent with the most current FDA or international governing body regulations

WHO WE ARE

Med-ERRS is a wholly owned, for-profit subsidiary of the Institute for Safe Medication Practices (ISMP), a nonprofit organization dedicated to reducing medication errors in healthcare. Med-ERRS brings its long-standing expertise in medication safety to the pharmaceutical, biotechnology and medical device industries to help reduce the risk of medication and device-related errors.

REGULATORY GUIDANCE EXPERTS

Med-ERRS is a leading expert in navigating the complex global healthcare safety environment. We stay abreast of the ever-changing trademark, package and label and other safety guidelines that are released by regulatory authorities in the US and around the world.

Contact the Med-ERRS team to discuss how we may be able to partner with you to effectively and efficiently evaluate the safety of your product with these new regulations in mind.
